What is the purpose of this program?

The primary goal of this program is to help students develop leadership skills that will enable them to be successful in their career, active in the community, and involved in policymaking. By supplying the Washington DC community with a reliable and consistent source of bright, hard-working interns, ASU and the state of Arizona benefit, too.

What will I be doing on the program?

You will live in Washington DC for two months in the summer and intern full-time at an organization of interest to you (options include, but are not limited to, the White House, Supreme Court, Congress, government agencies and departments, lobbying and consulting firms, media outlets, museums, think tanks, and non-profit organizations). You will also visit government agencies and historical sites, attend cultural events, and network with professionals from a number of different fields.

Am I eligible to participate in the program?

Students from any major are eligible but must have a 2.5 ASU GPA, a 3.0 major GPA, and 45 hours of completed coursework to apply. Transfer students should contact Rebecca Lish at rebecca.lish@asu.edu for exceptions.

Does this program work with my major?

Yes, this is a fantastic resume building and networking opportunity for students in any major. You will gain invaluable, hands-on work experience. Other benefits include obtaining strong letters of recommendation from internship supervisors and potential job offers. In addition, you will receive six POS 484 internship credits for your participation, which can count toward upper division major and/or general elective requirements. These credits can also count toward a minor and/or certificate offered through the School of Politics and Global Studies. To learn more about these opportunities, visit https://pgs.clas.asu.edu/content/minors-certificates.

How do I apply?

Visit the Study Abroad Office website at https://studyabroad.asu.edu/. Select the Program Search tab and enter “Capital Scholars” under the Program Name box to bring up the Capital Scholars brochure. If the application is available, you will have the option to select Apply Now. If it isn’t, select Save to Favorites. You will then be alerted once the application is open. In addition to the application, you will need to upload an unofficial transcript and clear scans of your student ID and government issued ID. You will also need to supply two academic or professional letters of recommendation and four passport-sized photos. These can be sent to Rebecca Lish (see other side for address). Once applications are reviewed, students will interview with a selection committee.

When do I need to apply for the program?

The application deadline for summer 2015 is Thursday, October 23rd.

What are the program dates?

The program dates for summer 2015 are Sunday, May 24th-Sunday, July 26th.
Frequently Asked Questions

Am I responsible for finding my own internship?

Yes, in order for you to have an experience in Washington DC that best fits your unique interests, background, and skills, we require that you secure your own internship. We have a number of resources and connections to organizations in DC which we will provide to help you through the process and ensure you find an internship that is a good fit. If you are interested in interning at the White House, State Department, Department of Homeland Security, CIA, FBI, or any other high security agency, please contact Rebecca Lish at rebecca.lish@asu.edu about beginning the application process. These agencies have early deadlines!

What is the program fee? What does this include?

The Summer 2015 program fee is $6,755. This includes tuition, housing, and program related excursions. In addition to the non-refundable $100 application fee, a non-refundable $350 confirmation deposit is required. Both fees will be applied to the final program fee balance.

What additional costs am I responsible for?

You are responsible for paying for your airfare, transportation costs, daily meals, personal expenses, health insurance, and non-program related optional excursions. Once confirmed for the program, a $250 refundable housing deposit is due. Please note that day-to-day living expenses are somewhat higher in Washington DC than in Tempe.

Are there scholarships available? Can my financial aid be applied toward these costs?

Scholarship funding may be available for students with financial need. Students must be admitted to the program and have a complete Free Application for Federal Student Aid on file in order to be considered for these scholarships. Financial aid and many ASU and private donor scholarships may also be applied toward program costs. Visit our scholarship webpage at https://pgs.clas.asu.edu/content/scholarships for more information.

Where will I be living?

You will live in Washington Intern Student Housing at Woodley Park (wishwoodleypark.com). The apartments house six students each and have three bedrooms and two bathrooms. All apartments are furnished and include utilities, AC, wireless internet, cable TV, cookware and dishware. WISH amenities also include daily maintenance, on-site staff, a computer lab, and access to social events. The apartments are centrally located, two blocks from the National Zoo and two blocks from the Metro. They are one Metro stop from Dupont Circle, three stops from downtown Washington DC and the White House, and six stops from Capitol Hill.

Where can I get more information?
